Gordon Daman began his career in a non-profit sector serving both the education and human services fields.

Gordon's interest in community development and local government has offered him the opportunity to serve various community driven organizations and projects with a focus on aging in place developments and social enterprise. Gordon and his wife have 3 children and reside in Niverville MB where they are active in the community and enjoy country living.

Doug Speirs' humour column, In the Doug House, has appeared on page 2 of the Winnipeg Free Press at least 3 times/week since 2006. No one is exactly sure why! In his columns, Doug strives to focus on the vital issues of the day, but generally ends up writing about himself and his family, especially his two dogs. He can frequently be found hosting or competing at charity events around the city of Winnipeg. Doug was one of 3 Canadian columnists nominated for the 2008 National Newspaper Awards in the column writing category.
